INTERVIEW WITH THE LIBERATED MAN

Spends the Evening at Home with His Family and Friends.

GRATEFUL TO THE QUEEN FOR A PARDON

Says He Was Treated Well in Prison, but is Glad to Be Free—Will Come to United States.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Secretary Olney today received the following cablegram from Consul General Lee: "Sanguilly released today."

The Spanish minister, Dupuy de Lome, has just received a cablegram from General Ahumada, saying that notice of Sanguilly's pardon has been received at Havana by cable from Spain and that Sanguilly will start for the United States by steamer to-night.

MADRID, Feb. 26.—The preamble of the queen's decree of pardon of Sanguilly says that Sanguilly is a friendly man, and that Sanguilly has undertaken in the future neither directly nor indirectly to assist in the rebellion. The incident is considered closed.

SANGULLY GLAD TO BE OUT.

Pardoned Man Spends a Pleasant Evening with His Family.

HAVANA, Feb. 26.—Julio Sanguilly, having been set at liberty, spent the evening at his home with a large number of friends. Sanguilly leaves tomorrow for Key West.

The Associated press representative called tonight on Sanguilly. His handsome residence is a villa in a quiet suburb. Sanguilly expressed his gratitude to the queen for the pardon, which greatly surprised him. He said that he never thought he would be pardoned. Sanguilly said the first news of the pardon reached him through a cable received from Secretary of State Olney which read:

"Advise Sanguilly's defender to withdraw his appeal, and facilitate pardon. Sanguilly believes the pardon was due to his actions on the part of her majesty to demonstrate her good will toward President Cleveland and Secretary of State Olney for services rendered. On this account the preliminaries to the pardon were probably hastened so the announcement might be made during the terms of office of Cleveland and Olney."

Sanguilly is well preserved in spite of his two years' imprisonment. He seemed grateful to all the officers of the fortress for many courtesies shown him. He had no complaint to make, except on the matter of the imprisonment itself. Sanguilly will be accompanied to the United States by his wife and family. He will not settle permanently in New York, as his wife is obliged to live in a hot climate. Sanguilly hopes that when the island of Cuba is pacified he will be allowed to return.

Although no hostile acts on the part of the populace toward Sanguilly have been reported as expected, nevertheless precautions to protect have been made. Before the Associated press correspondent left Sanguilly's residence he asked the correspondent to make the public his gratitude to the department of the American consul general, and to all those contributing to his liberty. He expressed satisfaction with the American press for the great interest shown in his case.

SPANIARDS FURIOUS AT LEE.

Call Him a Liar, a Rebel and Other Hard Names.

(Copyright, 1897, by Press Publishing Company.) MADRID, Spain, Feb. 26.—(New York World Cablegram—Special Telegram.)—General Lee has not even yet had an answer from Washington to his question called last Saturday, as to whether or not he can have a man-of-war if he needs one to back him up in his determination that no more American citizens shall be murdered in Cuba.

The Spanish officials at the palace are furious. They call him a liar and a rebel, and say all Americans are in the department of the general backed up by his government. He will probably be forced to leave. But the report that he has been given his passport is false. He will have to leave the country. The reports that General Lee had said public relations to the American government, and the public would know all the facts. "It took twenty days to get the diplomatic note," he said, "and when the case was presented to the senate and to the bar of public opinion, we have a pardon the next morning."

RUIZ CASE AGAIN.

Mr. Call spoke of the case of Dr. Ruiz, relating the revolting circumstances of his death. There were other cases still more revolting in the records of the State department. It had reached the point, he declared, that these poor prisoners, deserted by their own government, were actually protecting the queen of Great Britain to protect them. He portrayed the terrible scenes of the young girls, whose mutilated bodies were heaped up in a pile. Mr. Call concluded by presenting a resolution asking the president for information on the death of Dr. Ruiz. Mr. Morgan said that if Sanguilly had been taken, he would have asked the immediate adoption of the resolution.

Mr. White objected and the resolution went to the committee on the subject of Cuba. While Mr. Morgan was referring to the importance of the Sanguilly resolution, Mr. Hale ironically suggested:

"Will there be a motion to substitute some other subject for the case of Cuba?" There was no response. Mr. Hale said that only six days remained of the session. It was time to be taken up in debating the Sanguilly resolution. He thereupon moved that the senate proceed to the consideration of the Indian bill.

Mr. Morgan said that if Sanguilly had been pardoned the senate had no information except through newspapers, the executive department having withheld the information. He was not surprised that the president

Does Not Like the Comforts Which Systerov Sevel Enjoys.

HAVANA, Feb. 26.—(By Way of Key West, Fla.)—(New York World Cablegram—Special Telegram.)—A friendly man, says that Captain General Weyler went through the jail at Sancti Spiritus on Sunday. He said nothing, but scowled at the comfortable cell and discharged the warden who had been kind to Sevel. Since then Sevel has not been treated well, but he is not doubtful whether his bed will be allowed to remain in his cell.

CUBAN DEBATE IN THE SENATE.

Much of the Day Given to Discussing the Sanguilly Resolution.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—At 1 o'clock today the resolutions relative to the release of Julio Sanguilly were laid before the senate. The galleries were packed and there was the keenest interest in expected developments. A sharp parliamentary struggle was precipitated. Mr. Pettigrew attempted to go on with the Indian bill and moved that this be done. But it was held that the Cuban resolution had the right of way. The galleries to fever heat yesterday, stepped into the middle aisle and made another statement, he said, "I am not doubtful whether his bed will be allowed to remain in his cell."

RHODES IS STILL ON THE MARCH.

Henry Labouchere Takes a Turn at Asking Questions.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—The inquiry of the parliamentary committee into the Jameson raid was resumed today in Westminster hall. There was a crowd of guests and members of the House of Commons present, but the prince of Wales was absent. Mr. Edward Blake's examination of Colonel Cecil Rhodes was continued. The witness admitted he had instructed his agent in London, Mr. Rutherford Harris, to go to the Transvaal and to the plan the secret movement to certain persons in England, but he refused to divulge their names. Asked whether having a force ready to march into Transvaal was conducted consistent with his position as premier, Colonel Rhodes evoked laughter by replying: "It is for this committee to judge whether or not it does not appear to me to be inconsistent."

Mr. Blake then drew attention to the passage in the statement read by Colonel Rhodes at the opening day of the inquiry, relative to a foreign power, and added: "I accept fully your view that you had adequate grounds for that statement."

Colonel Rhodes replied: "I am glad you put it in that way. If I stated my reasons for the belief perhaps it would do harm and I prefer to leave it to the committee. Further questioning regarding the imperial character of the proposed federation, Colonel Rhodes said: "Mr. Blake must remember that when I federated in Canada it was a local people that federated and the imperial government fully sanctioned it."

Questioned as to whether he thought the Rhodes minister for foreign affairs was in the sinking fund on January 1, 1897, $262,062.45. In addition to this indebtedness there is still outstanding at 4 1/2 per cent a part of the amount of the sinking fund for the drought sufferers. These bonds are also due this year, when the state should be ready to take them up. The government, he argued, could be refunded and the money held in the sinking fund and in the sinking fund against the payment of the sinking fund, a good showing could be made toward putting the state treasury on a sound basis.

He also stated that at the present moment the total amount of the sinking fund is $1,200,000. These bonds were to run twenty years at 8 per cent interest, payable semi-annually. They will become due April next. Of the $1,200,000 of registered state general fund $267,355 are held in the permanent school fund. The remainder, amounting to $932,645, are supposed to be held by eastern parties and are not in the hands of the government.

Mr. Henry Labouchere next examined Rhodes. He asked: "Was Germany the power you believed President Kruger favored?"

"Yes," was the reply.

Asked for evidence in support of his belief, Mr. Labouchere asked, "Did you deliver a speech delivered by President Kruger before the German club of Pretoria on the occasion of Emperor William's birthday in 1895?"
